

News from the Battle Front Pics from the "Pub Mass"

In our November 2003 Archive, we reported: "'Pub Mass' Scheduled for Dec. 26 in Houston," the diocese in which the local Novus Ordo bishop forbids the Traditional Mass. One of our readers actually made the effort to attend this debacle to collect some serious evidence, but was disgusted enough to leave before long. Here are the pictures he took. Thank you to G. D.!

A shot of the outside of McGonigel's "Mucky Duck Pub".... the place where the diocese has an annual Boxing Day "Mass," on December 26.

Novus Ordos entering the sacrilegious "celebration"....

The diocese's Fr. Sean Horrigan at the "altar" under the McGonigel's Mucky Duck banner.

This is Fr. Horrigan getting ready for the "mass," putting on the typical Novus Ordo "chasuble," perhaps resembling a horse blanket more than anything else....

The "choir" -- excuse us, the band -- including guitars & saxophone.

Our Novus Ordo Watch reader then left the place in disbelief.....

But we still have a little something for you. Each attended received a little "guide booklet" for the "mass," which said the following about where the collection money would go:

LITURGY OF THE EUCHARIST

All of the offertory collection at today's Mass will go to the Christian Community Service Center (CCSC), a non-denominational, non-profit organization of some 30 churches and congregations that assists those in need in our city. In addition, many have brought a donation today of food or clothing (hence the idea of "boxing up" gifts on Boxing Day) to assist our brothers and sisters who have fewer material goods than ourselves. If you did not bring such a gift, please consider making a monetary donation.

Offertory Hymn

O Little Town of Bethlehem

*O little town of Bethlehem, how still we see thee lie!
Above thy deep and dreamless sleep the silent stars go by;
Yet in the dark streets shineth the everlasting Light;
The hopes and fears of all the years are met in thee tonight.*

*For Christ is born of Mary, and gathered all above,
While mortals sleep the angels keep their watch of wondering love;
O morning stars, together proclaim the holy birth!
And praises sing to God the King, and peace to all on earth.*

C: Pray, my brothers and sisters, that our sacrifice may be acceptable to God, our almighty Father.

P: May the Lord accept the sacrifice at your hands for the praise and glory of his name, for our good and the good of all his Church.
